Mid-City Citizens' Association Sees Hardship if Government Increases Work Hours.

Franchise for District Urged-Many Resolutions for Civic Improvements Are Advocated.

The Mid-City Citizens' Association, a ts meeting last night, adopted a resolution petitioning Congress to disapprove the Borland "rider" to the legislative, executive and judiciary bill, as proposition inconsistent with public policy, unfair, wrong, wholly American and contrary to the spirit of current legislation in the interest of labor. The resolution set forth that increased hours of labor will work a hardship not only upon the government employes to whom it would be applied, but also to the business men of Washington, creating a tremendous upsetting of business routine and transportation arrangements. ransportation arrangements.

Dentinger, secretary of the organization, and was adopted without dissent. The resolution declared:

lyiding that there shall be at least tem-porary platforms on various floors of a building as it goes up. Approval was also given to the Tinkham street im-provement bill to prevent the assess-ment of property owners long in ad-vance of the completion of proposed street construction, and to the John-son bill to clear the records of juvenile offenders against the law "That the meembers of the Mid-City Citizens' Association, at its regular meeting held Monday evening, February 28, 1916, hereby petition the Conoffenders against the law. gress of the United States to disap prove the Borland amendment or 'rider.' on the ground that it is entirely inconsistent with public policy for a great nation like the United States government to increase the hours of labor without a proportionate increase in remuneration; and it is further believed by our organization that the plan is not only unfair and wrong, but wholly unamerican and contrary to the laws being adopted throughout the country looking toward the elevation of labor; and further, that the increased hours will work a severe hardship not only upon the clerk and wage-earner, but the business men throughout this entire District, and would create ininconsistent with public policy for a CHRISTIANI'S 426-9"NA.

"Their work is most exhausting, both mentally and physically, and while it is true that many members of Congress, including myself, work ten or twelve hours a day, our work is not nearly as irksome or exhausting, as we are not compelled to sit at a desk in a stuffy room for seven hours, but have an opportunity of moving about.
"It is rather noor encouragement to

"It is rather poor encouragement to the clerks when they are notified that they must donate an extra hour each day to the government without additional compensation, and the proposed plan will not have a endency, if adopted, to secure from them any more work or closer application to their duties.

Rescindment of Contract.

There are many clerks who, because of ill health or age, are performing the BIRCH. limit of work now, and if an extra hour M. T. Pimes was appointed chairman should be placed upon them it would in many instances mean that they would soon be totally disabled for the perform-7th street merchants for observance of ance of the duties required of them.

Every department clerk, when he takes his oath of office, enters into a contract with the government to render seven hours' work per day at the entrance salary, with the tacit assurance that he will be advanced as vacancies occur. To require an additional hour's service without additional now is an Carl L. Budwesky, secretary to Representative Buchanan, substituted for the latter speaker. His theme was the legislative efforts of Representative Buchanan in behalf of the citizens of the District of Columbia, and he discussed the transfer of the control of the citizens of the district of Columbia, and he discussed the transfer of the control of the citizens of the district of the citizens of cussed the two measures introduced in Congress by Representative Buchanan, to which the organization later gave arbitrary rescindment of the contract, arbitrary rescindment of the contract, and could not be enforced in any court of justice were the contract between individuals. It is simply an arbitrary, unreasonable and dishonest method of taking from a large class of people service without compensation.

"What we should do is to increase the salary of department clerks receiving less than $2,500 at least 15 percent; enact a law establishing a contributory pension system, and provide that 5 per cent of each clerk's salary should go into a pension fund to retire the clerks who are too infirm or advanced in years to continue in service. Such a plan would provide for the promotion of deserving clerks and invite into the service bright, active young men and women who would be encouraged to prepare themselves for a proper discharge of the important duties imposed upon them.

Important Work Poorly Paid. "An intelligent administration of the laws requires as much preparation and experience, and as high a degree of ability, as making the laws, and it is a mistake to assume because of the small salaries that are being paid the employes of the government that their work is not of the government that their work is not of the greatest importance.

"I personally know men in the departments receiving from $1,200 to $2,000 a year who, if they were in private employment, would receive five times as much, and yet, because of the fact that they are established here and interested in their work, and are rearing families, they hesitate to give up their positions to enter private employment.

The union is now working on a plan to call a mass meeting to protest

"I am utterly opposed to the Borland amendment, and am doing all I can to convince my colleagues that its enactment would work a great injustice upon a very deserving class of people. It is unfortunate that we are living under an administration that is so short of revenue that it is proposed to resort to what I think would be legislative robbery of the government employer to get money to prevent a larger deficiency than is now staring us in the face."

To call a mass meeting to pragainst the Coland rider. It is that Samuel Gompers will be the speaker. A committee, compose Henry Nolda, Newton James and F Kerby, is at work today on plans the proposed mass meeting.

such a request is made the District heads are expected to remain silent concerning the matter.

The Commissioners are rarely asked to express their views on any legislation proposed in the form of a rider to an appropriation bill. Except when in explaining bills that originate in the District building and the estimates which they annually transmit to Congress, the Commissioners seldom transmit reports to Congress on bills other than those regularly referred to them for report. The majority of these come from the Senate and House District committees.

The Borland provision would affect about 150 District employes, who are assigned to outside duties, work overtime, frequently exceeding an eight-hour day, However, it is the consensus of opinion of local officials that the establishment of an eight-hour day for the entire personnel would not tend to increase the efficiency of the organization.
